Dance Notes

from The Director

Spring is just around the corner, and what glorious weather we have been having! All classes are progressing very nicely and while some classes have already begun working on year-end choreography, other classes are focused on upcoming director presentation classes in March & April.

Thanks to everyone who came out for Parents Observation week; we will try to have one more in April, in case you didn't get a chance to join in on your child's class.

I am definitely looking forward to the next part of the season, it is always so exciting with new show numbers and costumes!

See you soon!
